

Wednesday 20th January 2021

LO: TO WRITE EFFECTIVE SENTENCES FOR OUR STORY.

Let's get our brains working!

Spelling riddles. Words with -igh

1. A person, who often rescues damsels in distress. knight
2. When you walk into a dark room, you switch it on. light
3. The time of the day when the sky is dark. night
4. When you scare someone, that is what you 'give' them. fright
5. Another word for an argument/battle. fight

Today, we are focusing on:

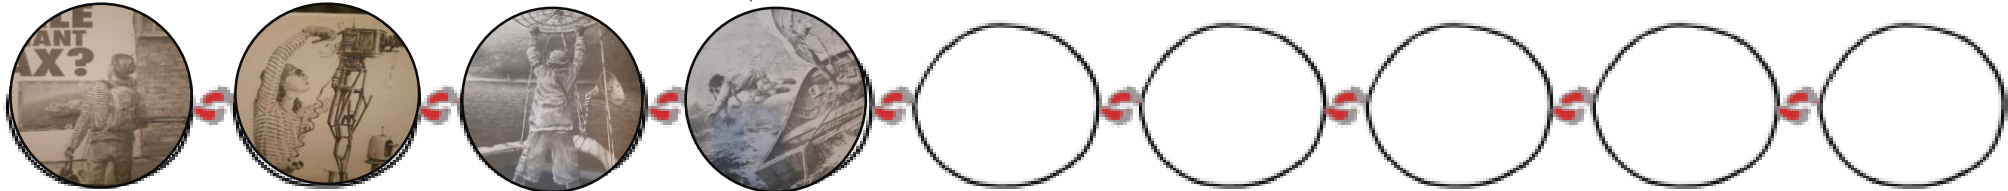

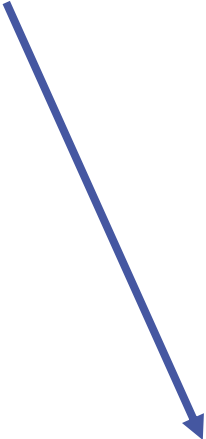

1. Feelings
2. Pathetic fallacy
3. Simile

Character
Highs

Lucy

Today, we are looking at Plot point 4- storm havoc and a splintered boat

X

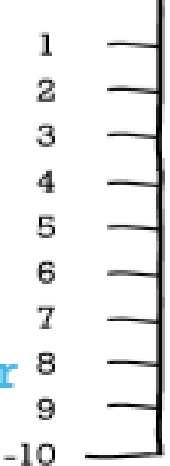

X

X

X

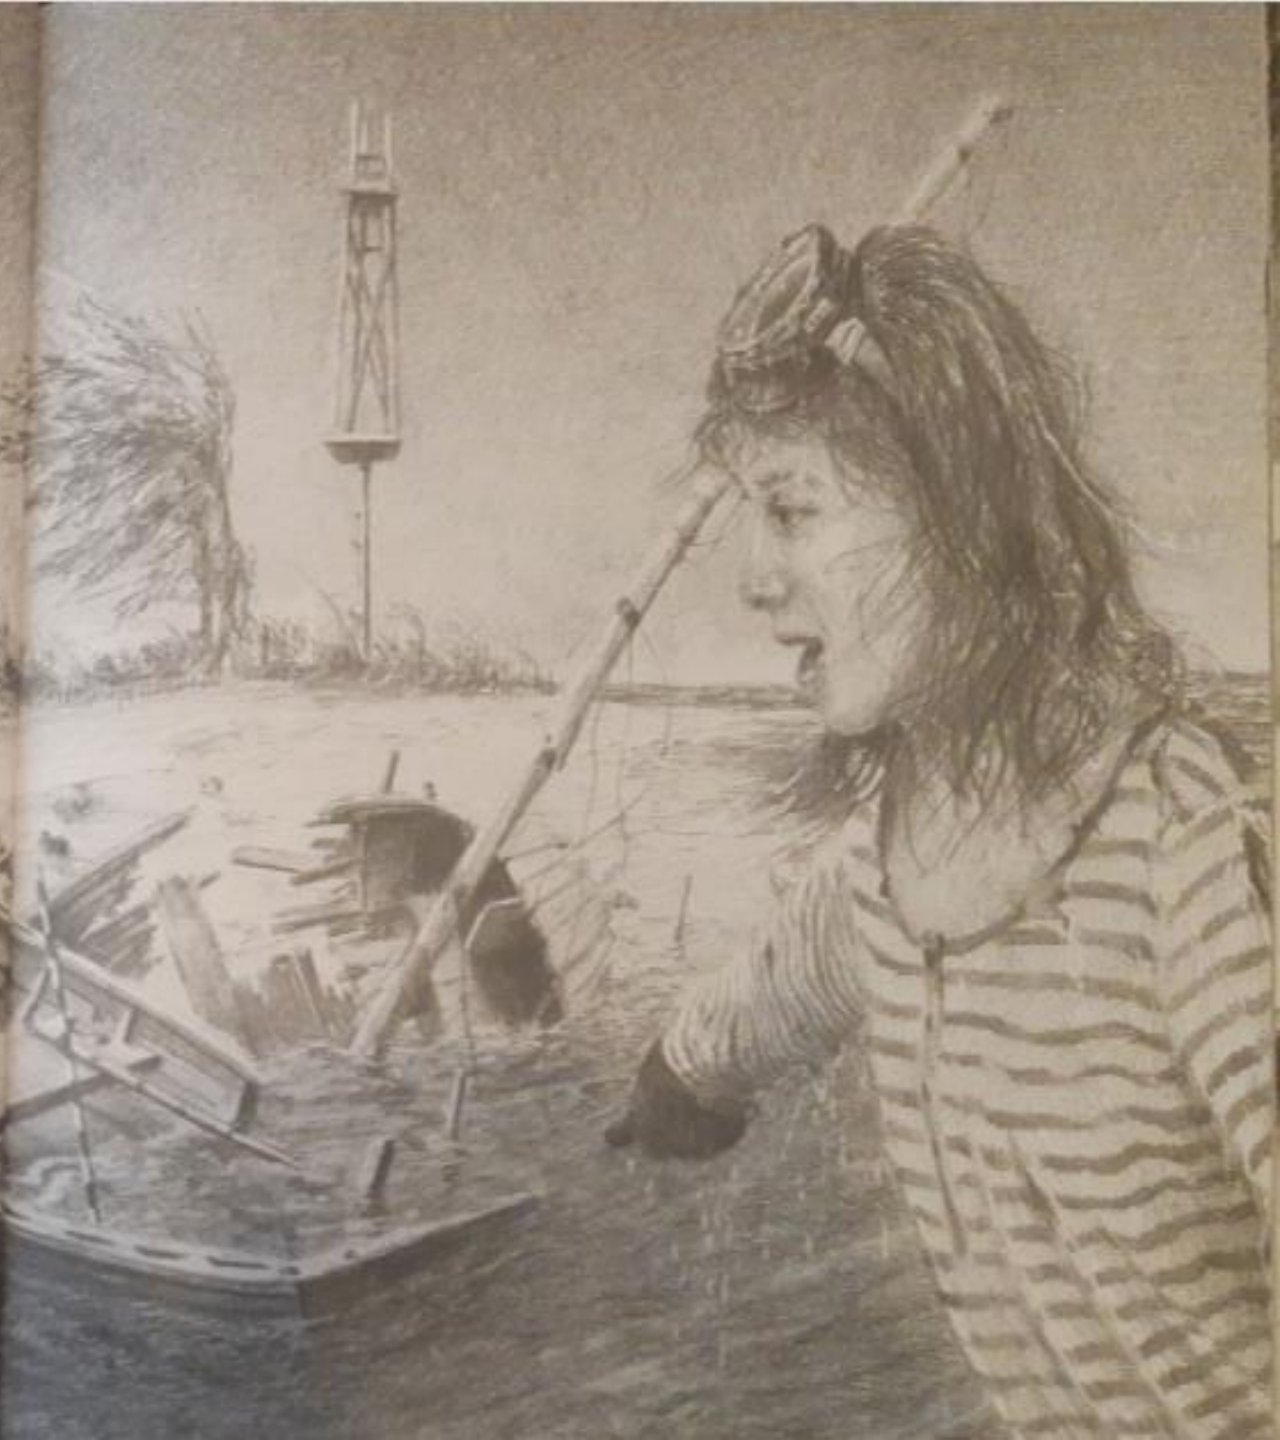

Character
Lows

to use ed y.

Thinking side

Writing side

Thinking side

Pandemonium terrified chaos
Hopelessness upset disorder
Anger terror petrified
Sadness alarm
Fear depressed
anxiety frightened

Writing side

Panic. Distress. Fear. The storm wreaked havoc.
Chaos. Turmoil. Dejection. The boat drifted away.
Relief. Devastation. Confusion. The adventurer
was alive.

Thinking side

Writing side

Panic. Distress. Fear. The storm wreaked havoc.
Chaos. Turmoil. Dejection. The boat drifted away.
Relief. Devastation. Confusion. The adventurer
was alive.

struggling to recover weak
Bleeding battered
Breathing heavily struggling to survive
Injured defeated
Hurt tired/exhausted
Bruised
Pulsating
beaten

The sky was battered and bruised while Lucy felt the pain
of the attack.

Thinking side

Writing side

Panic. Distress. Fear. The storm wreaked havoc.
Chaos. Turmoil. Dejection. The boat drifted away.
Relief. Devastation. Confusion. The adventurer
was alive.

The sky was battered and bruised while Lucy felt the pain
of the attack.

broken jigsaw
Shattered glass/screen
Smashed bottle
Broken vase
Damaged toy
Shattered window

Tranquil peaceful
Glassy soft
Clear silky
Frozen/icy
Calm Still smooth

Like shards of broken glass, the splintered wood disappeared into the depths of the now calm ocean.

Thank you children!

SEE YOU TOMORROW!