In our story, Lucy is heading towards a storm.

Today, we are focusing on gathering interesting, adventurous vocabulary that will help us describe the storm.

We will be thinking about what we can see, hear or smell.

We will also try to describe the feelings that one may experience when faced with a storm on the sea.

I would now like you to create a spider diagram to gather the best words.

For inspiration, I would like us to watch some clips that will help us understand what storm feels and looks like.
